Senior Class History

The senior year is;

The end and the beginning.

Catching a disease called "Macbethitis".

Making a TV set that doesn't work seem like a fabulous bargain at the Senior Sale.

Putting one too many notes on the end of "Chorale And Cappriccio".

Downing Whitehall for the first time in five years on their home court.

Managing victories when the gridders needed diving gear about three-fourths of the season.

Torturing Miss Werner and Mr. O'Bryan with the thought of green caps and gowns.

Realizing that these are the last days 195 seniors will be together as a class.

It all began in 1963 when we had entered the glorious realm of the senior high. We were still underclassmen, but at last we had the seventh and eighth graders to look down ontol Suddenly, we were confronted with all sorts of privileges; we were allowed to attend school dances, elect officers and select Homecoming court representatives. Debbie Dewey, Judy Hamilton, Debbie Fosheim, Larry Simpson, Brian Nyman and Jeff Smithson took their places in the student government, and Judy Hamilton was chosen as our Homecoming representative. For the positions of president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer, we elected Steve DeBoer, Barb DeKuiper, Gayle DeShetler and Barb Scott. Gradually, we settled into the new pattern of school life; we'd passed one year of our high school career without too many battle scars.

In 1964, we'd taken our places as sophomores. That was the year we became real someones! Fremont was left in a state of terror as we earned our drivers' licenses, and the upperclassmen looked at us with a whole new respect. As class president, we re-elected Steve DeBoer, with Cassius Bultman as vice-president, Cris Pinnick as secretary and Bob Haveman as treasurer. Debbie Fosheim, Gayle DeShetler, Barb DeKuiper, Nancy Foster, Maureen Ryan and Barb Scott represented the class in Student Council, and Jane Thompson was selected for the Homecoming Court. As sophomores, we were humiliated by being made to serve for the Junior-Senior Prom and Banquet, but we managed to retain some of our dignity by polishing the flashy new classrings, which, for the first time, bore an established school crest. One by one, the months slipped by, and we were juniors.

The junior year promised to be a big one, with a play to present and a Junior-Senior Prom and Banquet to put on. Under the excellent direction of Miss Werner, the cast for "Web of Murder" executed their mystery-comedy to capacity crowds. Janna Barlow made a charming addition to the Homecoming Court, and Jane Thompson and Cassius Bultman captured the queen and king's crowns for the Midwinter Festival. Barb Scott's experience paid off in Student Council, as she was elected secretary. Janna Barlow, Debbie Fosheim, Judy Hamilton, Steve Fox, Brian Nyman and Walt Jendrzejewski represented the eleventh grade in the student's governing body. Once again, Steve DeBoer was put in the office of class president, with Cassius Bultman in for a second term as vice-president, Gayle DeShetler as secretary and Mary Johnson as treasurer. Our prom proved to be unforgettable, carried out in a beautiful, classic Greek theme. Graduation held more meaning that year. We realized we would only be a part of F.H.S. until June of '67; in one very brief year, we would be clad in caps and gowns. The long and formerly boring addresses to the graduating classes would be directed at us, and those insignificant pieces of paper would bear our names. As our four class officers led the class of '66 at Commencement, we knew the familiar strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" would bring a stubborn lump to our throats.

Unbelievably and all too suddenly, we became the class of '67. We were shaken by a sense of insecurity, because all at once, so many people depended on us. So many of those men in the red-and-white jerseys used to be the skinny little kids who had a hard time holding on to the ball. We were the ones playing first chair in a prize-winning concert band! We were the ones who made a mint selling junk at the senior sale! Those were our boys who helped make the splendid football, track, swimming, wrestling and basketball teams what they were! Eleven seniors nearly made a wreck out of Miss Werner as their play, "Cracked Nutts", managed to miraculously materialize on the opening night of the play. Brian Nyman, Jeff Suerth, Delcie Carter and Mary Johnson held the offices of president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer for their class, and the student body elected Judy Hamilton and Debbie Fosheim president and secretary of the Student Council. Stan Boes, Cris Pinnick, Ruth Ensing, Prudy Shanahan, Glen Luchies and Tim Tubbergen were council's twelfth grade members. Prudy Shanahan was assisted by her staff in editing the 1967 Mogul and Mary Johnson was Editor-in-Chief of the Packer Tales. Homecoming festivities were very elaborate and very muddy. Janna Barlow, Gayle DeShetler, Judy Hamilton, Debbie Fosheim, Cris Pinnick and Jane Thompson made the pageant a memorable one, and choosing a queen was difficult. In the two days between the Homecoming Assembly and the game, tension reigned supreme. Friday found the floats in rather soggy condition, and the football field was a sea of mud. The marching band nearly drowned in attempts to execute a difficult varsity-kick to the regal tune of "Aida" and found that maintaining a strict attention was next to impossible as lovely Debbie Fosheim tearfully accepted the queen's crown.

Basketball season rolled around, and with it, the Midwinter Festival. Out of the senior court of Barb DeKuiper, Lillian Downing, Marcia Leavitt, and Barb Scott, Jeff Suerth, Jon Brookhouse, Dan Fenner and Chris Nelson, we chose pert Barb DeKuiper and Jon Brookhouse as the royal court. But after the exquisite Packer cagers had made a place for themselves with an admirable record, and the music department had completed a rigid schedule of concerts and contests, the days were numbered for the class of '67.

We are measured for our caps and gowns, order the necessary announcements, and our memories begin to get the best of us. We wonder how dissecting a frog, committing "out, out brief candle" to memory or locating Magnitogorsk on the map will ever prepare us for the world outside the halls of F.H.S. We've passed the stage where others think for us; now we must think for ourselves. As we grasp our diploma, so too, we are taking the reins of responsibility. We realize

Tomorrow is Another time,
Another place,
Another day,
Another life;
and
May be
A different existence,
A different benevolence,
A different world;
A past walking hand-in-hand
With the Future.

COUNCIL OFFICERS — Seated: Debbie Fosheim, secretary; Judy Hamilton, President. Standing: Eric Dahlstrom, Treasurer; Harry Stroven, Vice-President.

Student Council

Our Student Council serves as a governing body to promote good relationships between our school's faculty and students. Among its activities were Homecoming, the Christmas Dance, Mid-Winter Festival, and Unity Week.

It furnished us with music at all our dances, with the assistance of the Max Barnes Combo, the Pedestrians, the Unit 12, and Bob Moore, a local disc jockey. With the division of grades in two schools, our Sr. High Student Council has been able to function more efficiently. It also enabled them to have their own room to carry out their operations. Serving as advisor for the council was Thomas Kidder.

Susan-
I am writing from the top of the hat to wish you the very best in everything you do in your future years. Congradulations on winning the U.S. History award. I knew you would. It makes me very proud to know you. I'm sure you'll have lots of fun at the seminar. Jane Fowler, the girl you met at the Foundation party is very nice. You'll like her fine. Just think, next year we'll be in these outfits. Now I'm going to have to get another trophy. You're one up on me. Oh, well. See ya next year as seniors

Thus Ended 1967

Thus ended the glorious school year of 1966 and 1967. It was a memorable one and its memories will linger in our minds ages hence. The Publication Staff and I hope that this 1967 Mogul has been able to capture these thoughts and freshly renew those memories which may have slipped from your mind.

In the future, as you look within this Mogul, gazing upon old classmates and recalling certain incidents whose memories belong only to you, see it as more than a yearbook. See it as a history book, a reference book, a student project, a memory book, and most of all, your Mogul. Its theme is the student, or, more directly, its theme is you.

Yes, as times goes by, and these pages are read and reread, we sincerely hope that once again the spirit of 1967 will capture your thoughts.

Sue -

Well, here we are at the end of our great junior year. It seems so impossible. I hope you have as many memories as I have. otherwise your year has been wasted. I hope you always stay just as sweet as you are & I know you'll be a success. Lots of luck in the future -

Kay

(Don't forget to cheer at our games next year. we need your support!)

Sue -

I never know what to put in moguls, because I'm not witty or intelligent, but already, Sue managed to fill up six lines. Without Good luck next year with the mighty seniors!
